

A Legacy of Giving

With change part of everyday life, careful planning is needed now more than ever. Making plans for today—and for the future—is important not only to you but to those you care about. For instance, you may have a spouse, children, grandchildren and other loved ones who rely on you for support. You may also want to ensure your charitable interests receive gifts in the future.

On the following pages, you will discover ways to make gifts you may not have thought possible to The United Church Board for Ministerial Assistance, Inc. while you enjoy increased income, tax savings and other benefits. You may make your gifts today, or through arrangements that first provide for your continued financial security and that of your loved ones. No matter which approach you choose, you will enjoy knowing that you are making a difference for years to come.

That's what effective gift planning is all about. The information presented here will help you maximize your giving potential, make the most of your charitable dollars, and ensure our mission and ministry continues for future generations.

We are available to assist you, without obligation, as you consider the best methods for supporting us. Our staff will work with your attorney, accountant or financial advisor to provide options and information that help you fulfill your financial needs and philanthropic goals.
